Monty SES Esposito born and raised in Syracuse, New York. I started painting graffiti style murals around the age of 15. I moved to Tucson, Arizona in 1995, and I started painting the walls and washes around that time. I was involved with the Tucson puma arts council and I've travel around the world and the United States painting murals. I'm excited to work with the open space church here in Tucson. I'm looking forward to creating as many masterpieces as possible.
